

ESCAPE FROM ELBA

A Cheapass board game for 3-6 players

You're Napoleon, and so is everyone else.

In 1814 Napoleon was exiled to the island of Elba with nothing but 400 French troops, a pension, a fleet of ships, and a guy named Niall Campbell to keep him from leaving.

Needless to say, he left.

Now you and a bunch of other Napoleons are back at Elba again. Or at least, that's what you think. And escaping won't be so easy this time.

Escape from Elba is a clever little board game about collecting letters, spelling words, and sneaking out of exile.

You Need: a distinct 6-sided Die for each player, and several more 6-sided dice, for a total of twelve.
