

Scoby Doo and the MYSTERY MACHINE

All characters, character names and character likenesses are © 2001 Hanna-Barbera Productions, Inc. (or AOL-Time/Warner if you want to get technical about it). No rights given or implied. These pieces are for home use only. We wouldn't charge for these things even if we could. We just want to have fun and hope you will agree not to distribute these files and use them in the spirit in which they were created.

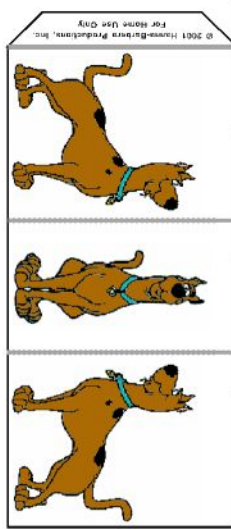

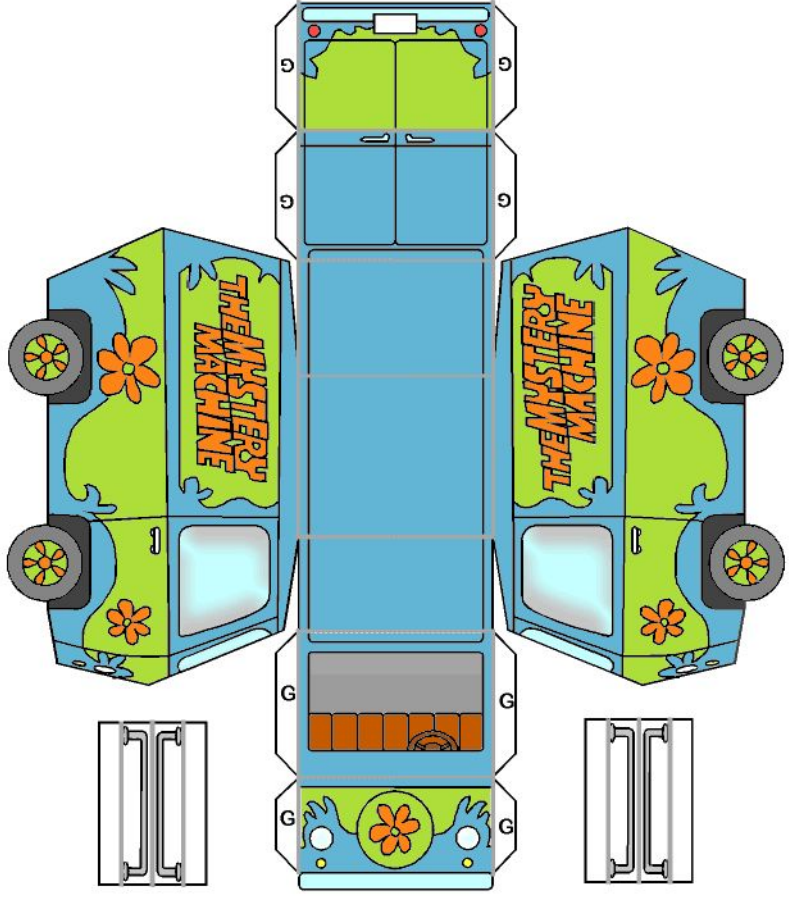

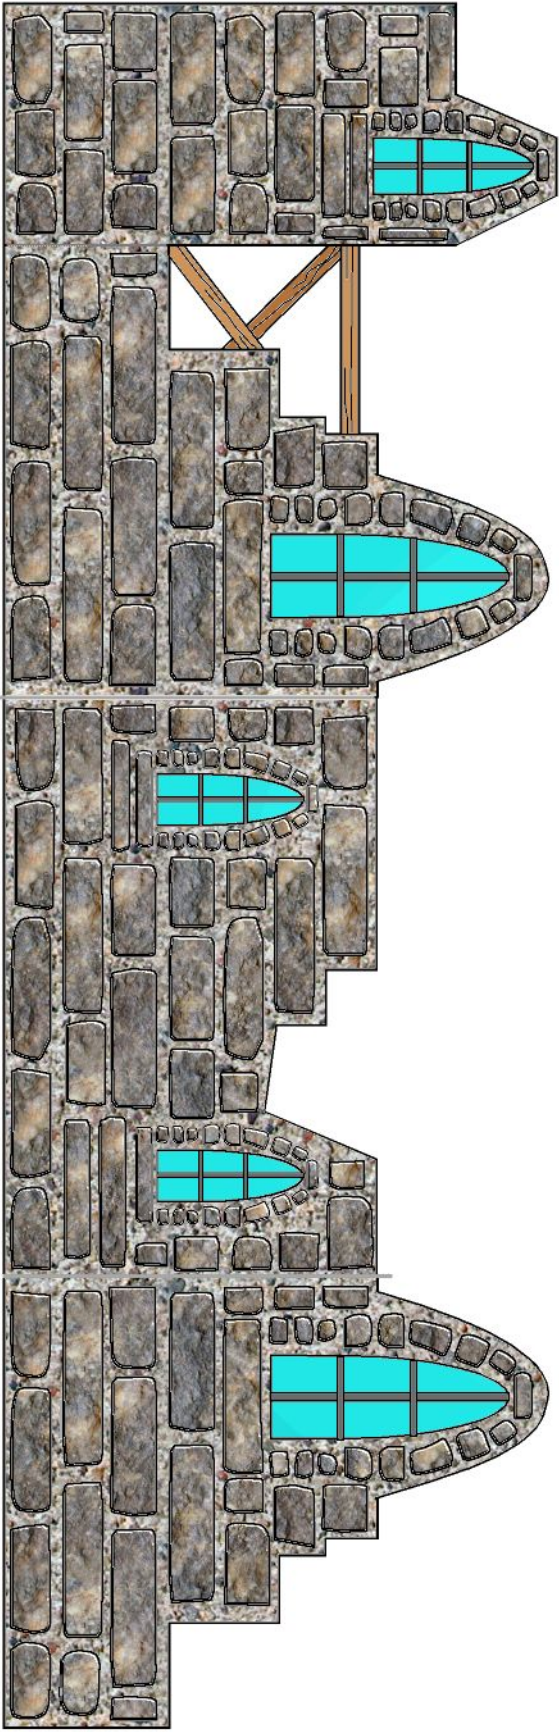

To assemble The Mystery Machine, cut out and score as indicated. Fold both sides down and fold down the top panels to match the angles on the sides. Glue all tabs to the inside. Assemble one side first, then fold the other side over and glue to the tabs. Cut out and score the luggage racks. Fold into a triangle shape, gluing one foot on top of the other. Glue to the top of the van.

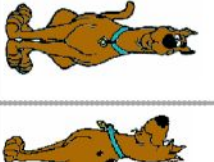

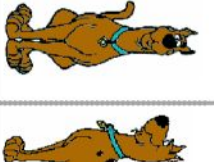

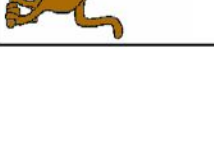

To assemble the stand-ups, cut out and score. Fold into a triangle and glue one foot on top of the other. The character name should go to the outside.

Cut out the backdrop and fold as desired. It looks pretty good if you fold it in a Z shape. If you want to cut out any of the windows or the spaces between the fallen timbers, do so after you've folded the panels. It's easier and the tiny pieces that are left after cutting out won't bend.
