The naval special operations forces share the same name as the Army, but are a completely separate formation (though airborne training is conducted by the Army). They are tasked with coastal recon and raids, and attacks on shipping.

Option: Pakistan is believed to have a sizable force of midget submarines. The personnel who operate them would in all likelihood belong to SSGN. Add Boating 30/Submersible 15 (new Value 540/Cost 490).

Long tasked more with maintaining the government then enforcing the law, the police are a inefficient, brutal and corrupt force. Training is very outdated with a lot of procedure still dating back to colonial days. Equipment is very paramilitary with Enfield and AK rifles being more common then pistols.
