WARZONE

The Forces of War

The Army Lists

This book contains the army lists for all the armies in Warzone, each of which has its own identity and structure. All the army lists follow the same basic format. First you will find the Buying Criteria which tells you the proportions in which particular Units may be bought. Next you will find a brief description of each army to give you an idea of the armies character and the nature of the warriors that fight in its ranks. Following this are the Stat Lines and Profiles for all the models in the army. Each of the army lists has its own Armory, a list of the weapons that they use and this too varies from army to army. Finally some armies have a list of Supernatural Powers which can be bought for certain models in your army.

Choosing your army is as much a part of Warzone as fighting the battle itself. Your choice will depend on the type of battle you are going to play. If you are fighting indoors then good Close Combat troops will be essential. If you are playing a large-scale battle with little Cover then Snipers and models with good Ranged Combat will be the order of the day. If the battlefield presents a wide variety of combat situations then you will need to choose a versatile force that can deal with any eventuality.

You must try to anticipate what your opponent will choose and decide on the best force to meet the threat and emerge victorious. Skilled models with deadly, heavy weapons can be devastating but they are also expensive. Models with Supernatural Powers might swing the battle in your favor but they are just one model and if they die then the Powers you bought for them will die too. There is no such thing as the perfect model in Warzone. They are each effective in certain circumstances and balancing the effectiveness and cost of one model compared to another is a large part of the fun and a large part of the skill of Warzone. So choose your forces well for once the battle begins it is too late to change your mind.

Capitol

Capitol has one of the largest forces in the solar system with a number of special forces units. However, before conscripts can move into the ranks of the special forces units they must serve their term in the infantry. The light infantry is made up of young soldiers straight out of boot camp. They soon lose their bravado and innocence for the arena of war does not look kindly on either. Together with the more armored heavy infantry they are quickly shipped out to whichever warzone needs them most.

When it comes to a life in the military the Free Marines are at the opposite end of the scale to the new recruits. These seasoned soldiers have seen it all and lost much of their self-esteem during long years of horror in the field. Now they are determined to end their service by regaining the honor they have lost. They do not speak of the things that drive them but they will go to great lengths, moving behind enemy lines and creeping up on the enemy before attacking with great ferocity.

The Desert Scorpions are used against the Dark Legion on Mars, as are the famous Martian Banshees. The Martian Banshees have booster back-packs that allow them to fly over the battlefield giving them a distinct advantage over ground based troops. They have a reputation for victory and this keeps the unit highly motivated.

The Sea Lions are an elite marine unit mostly restricted to the wars on Venus where their camouflage training can be used to the full. While in the caverns of Mercury the Sunset Strikers do battle with Mishima using the same Close Combat martial arts for which they are renowned. Long ago they earned the right to bear the katana, the sword of a Samurai warrior and they wear them with pride and wield them with skill.

Capitol has always maintained a reputation for logistical expertise and the Airborne Rangers are the perfect example of how they use this skill on the battlefield. The Rangers are deployed by parachute behind enemy lines, a tactic that time and time again has thrown the enemy into confusion.

Apart from the normal individuals that enhance a unit's combat ability, such as the heavy infantry grenade launchers and tank-buster individuals there are the Covert Operations Specialists who are trained to compromise enemy positions and take out specific targets.

The citizens of Capitol love a celebrity and they have a number to choose from in the armed forces. Sergeant Carter, a hard nosed veteran who, despite his regime of brutal discipline, has a reputation for achieving his objectives and bringing back his troops in one piece. Then there is Big Bob Watts a large black guy with a deep hatred for the Dark Legion. He remains calm, even in the most fierce battles and packs an enormous amount of firepower with his twin mounted HMG's. Jake Kramer is a bit of a loose cannon, which is not the most desirable thing considering his favored weapon is a flame-thrower. Then again this individual found salvation in the Free Marines and gets a kick out of danger. Mitch Hunter is the guy all new conscripts want to be. He is a natural leader a sworn enemy of the Dark Legion and famous for pulling off missions that were deemed impossible. If you were going to war this is one man you would want in your army.

Capitol has three flying vehicles in its armory, the KA-67 Great Grey, the Purple Shark and the Pegasus Scout Bike. The Great Grey and the Pegasus Scout Bike are both one-man vehicles while the Purple Shark carries two. Whether strafing the battlefield with machine gun fire or dropping grenades on the enemy below, these vehicles can have a great impact on the outcome of a battle.

Bauhaus

The Bauhaus reputation for efficiency and quality engineering extends onto the battlefield. Their equipment and armor is considered to be amongst the finest available. The Ducal Militia marks the first tier of military service in the armies of the Four Duke Electors. Although new recruits they are well trained and well armed and because of the incessant ferocity of the Second Corporate Wars they don't remain new recruits for long. Within a few months the surviving members of the Ducal Militia are given additional training and raised into the ranks of the Hussars.

The Hussars form the main body of the Bauhaus military machine giving Bauhaus the best-trained regular army in the solar system, which in many cases is a match for some of the other corporation's more elite forces.

Rising above the ranks of the regular troops are several elite Bauhaus divisions. The Venusian Rangers were formed centuries ago to help defeat the Dark Legion on Venus and to this day they remain one of the most versatile and efficient divisions in existence. It is their expertise in jungle warfare that enables Bauhaus to maintain its firm hold on the jungle covered planet of Venus. The Bauhaus Blitzers are explosive specialists trained to take out vehicles and gain access to even the most heavily guarded buildings and fortifications. The Blitzers are often deployment by parachute allowing them to drop behind enemy lines and outflank the enemy.

The Dragoons are the Bauhaus shock troops. They are better armored than other divisions and fight with unshakable confidence and when supported by the Dragoon Rocket Launcher specialist they make a formidable force.

The Etoiles Mortant, 'The Dying Stars', are close assault troops. Armed with swords and pistols this all-female division uses the art of camouflage to get close to the enemy before attacking in concerted groups. They are often used against the Dark Legion for these fierce volunteers know no fear.

Supporting the Rangers on Venus are the Venusian Marshals. These highly trained mounted troops often act in isolation from the main army carrying out reconnaissance missions and lightning-fast attacks. Therefore only the most capable warriors ever become Marshals.

When it comes to defensive hardware there is no better piece of ordnance than the HMG-85/T. These heavy mounted machine guns pack an awesome punch and are often used to enhance the defenses of the famous Bauhaus bunkers.

Certain individuals in the Bauhaus army have gained such a reputation for outstanding military service that they have attained the status of heroes. Max Steiner was once a member of the Venusian Rangers but now he fights independently, blazing away with his two hi-power machine pistols. Valerie Duval rose to eminence from the Etoiles Mortant and her star is still rising. In close combat she is truly devastating, dealing out death with her bladed nightsticks.

Finally the GT-Offroad reconnaissance vehicle complements the Bauhaus army. This sturdy armored car carries a hood-mounted machine gun and carries a driver and gunner. Its flexibility makes it the ideal support vehicle for a wide range of battlefield situations.

Mishima

The army of Mishima is as much a part of their ancient culture as any other aspect of life. Honor is paramount. The code of Bushido 'The Way of the Warrior' is still the dominant theme behind the Mishima war machine. However, there are many in the corporation that see that if they cannot adapt to modern tactics then the future of Mishima maybe short indeed. This quandary plays a part in the power struggles of the Lord Heirs who must weigh tradition against military success and failure.

The lowest of the military units are the Ashigaru, poorly trained but great in number they are not so concerned with the code of Bushido. They may be common folk but they still serve the corporation with duty and honor. The Ronin Samurai have lost face in society and have given up the Bushido code to a large extent, combining traditional forms of combat with modern firearms. The Bushido Samurai frown upon ranged combat as dishonorable and cowardly. They insist on facing the enemy in Close Combat despite the losses they suffer by adopting such a tactic. However, once they have the enemy in sword's reach there are few that can stand before them.

Next upon the path to enlightenment are the Tokugawa units. The Hatamoto are often used as the elite guard of the Lord Heirs. Because of the tasks they perform they are permitted to use assault rifles without losing face. And yet, given the opportunity, they always favor dispatching the enemy with a lightning-fast charge and a swift sword-cut from their katana.

The Tiger Dragons are awesome shock troops. Armed with the power naginata and clad in superior armor they are used to infiltrate enemy lines before attacking in close quarters. The Crimson Devils are the most versatile of all Mishima units, using the full range of armaments available. Although they serve the corporation with great efficiency still they feel the need to hide their faces and their identity behind ornate masks.

The Combat Warheads do not hide behind masks despite the fact that they are armed with heavy machine guns. There is no hiding when the weapon you use is so fearsome. For the Suicide Warheads there is no point in hiding like the Tiger Dragons, for they rarely survive a battle. They are fanatical in their devotion to Mishi-ma and go into battle covered in explosives; human bombs willing to give their lives if it means taking the enemy with them. No matter what a Mishima citizen has done their honor can be restored by giving their life as a Suicide Warhead.

The art of assassination has always been a part of Mishima life and the Shadow Walkers continue the tradition. They are assigned difficult objectives where normal units would never be able to get close to the enemy. Similar to the Shadow Walkers but acting alone are the Deathbringers. These assailants are much feared by the enemy as they have passed through the Schools of Enlightenment and possess mystical powers that enable them to pass through locked doors and even solid walls, or so their paranoid targets are led to believe.

The Demon Hunters are warriors who have dedicated themselves to the slaughter of the Dark Legion. Students of the martial arts they also pack a heavy machine gun for the more stubborn of the Dark Souls minions.

The armor of the Samurai Warlords has always been revered for its quality and effectiveness but now it would seem to have been surpassed by the Meka. The Meka is a suit of powered armor, using miniaturized combustion and micro-mechanics to give the wearer enhanced abilities.

The old proverb that the nail that raises its head will get hammered down still holds true in Mishima society but there are certain individuals that have so far escaped the hammer. Tatsu, a swordmaster of strong presence and great skill, he has cheated death and is now afforded great respect through all levels of Mishima society. And the notorious Toshiro whose skill as an assassin is feared even among his own people. There are many rumors about which of the Lord Heirs he is loyal to but many suspect that his loyalty is to the Mishima Overlord a suspicion that seems unlikely considering the fact that most view the Overlord as nothing more than a ceremonial figurehead.

The only vehicle of note in the Mishima arsenal is the Dragonbike. An exquisite one-man vehicle fashioned after the ornate dragon symbolism of old. This high-speed hovering vehicle provides some serious firepower with its twin mounted rocket launchers and heavy machine gun.

- Blood Berets
- Golden Lions

Individuals

- Squad-linked Individuals
- Imperial Ordnance Officers
- Gray Ghosts
- Rams Air Cavalry

Personalities

- Edward S. Murdoch
- Timothy McGuire

Vehicles

- Hurricane Walker

Choosing an Imperial Army

The army of the Imperial Corporation is divided into two distinct forces, the Army and the Wolfbanes. An Imperial army may consist of any proportion of Army and Wolfbane forces so long as you follow the buying criteria for each force.

The Army

The Army has no illusions about war. They know it is a theater of blood, violence, mud and sweat. But they also know it can be bring forth the most astounding acts of heroism and self sacrifice. However, most members of the Army are content to fight well and their only concern is that they do not let their comrades down.

The Regulars form the main body of the Army and although they are new recruits they are still required to serve on some of the most bloody battle-lines in the solar system. Soldiers that show promise are raised from the massed ranks of the Regulars into the more specialized units such as the Trenchers. These fierce fighters have a well deserved reputation for discipline and a gritty resilience.

Those who can endure the savage training regimes might qualify for service in the system renowned ranks of the Blood Berets or the Golden Lions. The Blood Berets were formed over a thousand years ago to fight the Dark Legion in the jungles of Venus. Time and again they have shown why the unit has endured the test of time. The Golden Lions do not have the same glorious legacy but they are forging a reputation of their own. They are a versatile unit that specializes in outmaneuvering the enemy and coming upon them from an exposed flank.

Within these units are specialist troops and individuals who act as an example for new recruits and veterans alike. There is no explanation for these heroes it is simply the case that certain individuals make damn good soldiers.

The Imperial Ordnance Officers for example have begun to make a name for themselves as good leaders capable of handling command in the field as well as the logistical requirements for Imperial bases. The Gray Ghosts are more like commando units working alone behind enemy lines to disrupt supply lines and draw enemy fire. It takes a particular type of courage to operate as a Gray Ghost.

One unit now giving the Imperial Army a definite advantage is the Rams Air Cavalry. These individuals fly over the battlefield moving quickly over any type of terrain to reach their priority targets, normally enemy vehicles or large Dark Legion creatures, which they take out with their twin rocket launchers.

Besides the normal individual units there are specific characters that have made a name for themselves. Edward S. Murdoch is a famous tactician who first rose to prominence in the Golden Lions. However, his uncompromising attitude and hotheaded temper have made him unpopular with the conservative powers that be. Timothy McGuire on the other hand has had a dramatic impact since he transferred to the Golden Lions. He has proven to be a natural leader and contributes greatly to the morale of the troops during these dark times.

In recent years some of the most hard fought fronts have witnessed a new weapon from the Imperial engineers. The Hurricane Walker is a massive bi-pedal vehicle that is having a notable effect on such battle-lines as the McCraig Line on Mars, which has seen no progress for many years. With this vehicle now adding to the determination of the Trenchers they may yet be able to extend the McCraig Line and push the enemy back.

LUPI

La storia dei Lupi nacque molti secoli fa, ai tempi in cui molte delle Corporazioni Imperial si ridefinirono come Clan. Lo spirito dei Lupi ha le sue origini nella Terra, è uno spirito guerriero nato per combattere.

Coloro che appartengono al primo cerchio di fedeltà sono noti con il nome di uomini del Clan e le Reclute dei Lupi sono i soldati più giovani che prendono parte alle battaglie non appena raggiungono la giusta età. Solo quelli che dimostrano il loro valore sul campo possono ambire ad entrare a far parte dei Commandos dei Lupi. Questi combattenti da mischia costituiscono l'ossatura dell'esercito e sono famosi perché prima di impegnare il nemico in corpo a corpo lanciano i loro terribili urli di guerra e agitano le loro grosse spade.

Coloro che riescono a sopravvivere a queste battaglie sono veramente i migliori. Molti valorosi guerrieri perdono la vita sul campo e questo spinge le vedove ad abbracciare le armi in memoria del loro amato scomparso. Queste donne guerriere sono note con il nome di Lupe Piangenti e il loro unico scopo è la vendetta, attaccano in gruppo e non conoscono la paura.

I Mastini hanno il compito di scovare le creature dell'Oscura Legione abbattendole con i loro Martelli a due Mani Potenziati.

I Cacciatori di Teste sono altrettanto brutali. Infatti prendono le teste dei loro nemici come trofeo, con le loro asce. Ci sono poi i Berserker che seguono l'antica tradizione della ferocia. Non si curano minimamente per la loro incolumità, l'unico scopo di vita è quello di distruggere l'avversario. Gli Apripista sono l'ultima Unità di Veterani, hanno l'abilità di infiltrarsi dietro alle linee nemiche svolgendo attacchi di rappresaglia con i loro Lanciarazzi.

Molte delle Unità dei Clan e dei Veterani hanno capi ed eroi tra le loro fila, ma il personaggio più famoso è senza dubbio Sean Gallagher. Rinomato per il suo odio nei confronti dell'Oscura Legione la sua sola presenza sul campo di battaglia può portare le forze Imperial a gloriose vittorie.

I Lupi utilizzano due Veicoli per la manovrabilità ed il supporto pesante. La Motocicletta Fenris, che richiama la sagoma di un lupo ed è armata con il più volte sperimentato Lanciafiamme Lupus e lo Necrofalciatrice, così chiamata per la sua peculiarità di falciare i Legionari Non Morti e i Necromutanti dell'Oscura Legione.

Il Lanciafiamme Lupus è fissato su una pedana rigida quindi può solo sparare davanti a sé. Quando dovete sistemare l'Indicatore non seguite la solita procedura, ma sistemate direttamente di fronte alla Motocicletta Fenris. Il Lanciafiamme Lupus utilizza l'Indicatore del Lanciafiamme ma il Danno della fiammata dipende dal risultato ottenuto sulla tabella qui di seguito.

- 1-10: Ogni modello toccato dall'Indicatore subisce un colpo a DANNO 11.

Cybertronic

L'esercito della Cybertronic cresce più velocemente di quello di ogni altra Corporazione. In qualità di Megacorporazione più giovane di tutte, non ha una tradizione storica secolare come le altre. E' considerata molto avanzata dal punto di vista tecnologico, anche se oggi non è più così vero. La loro predisposizione alla ricerca scientifica gli conferisce un grosso vantaggio per il futuro.

La prima opportunità che i cittadini hanno per servire la propria Corporazione è entrare a far parte dei Volontari del Popolo. Si tratta per lo più di truppe molto fedeli piuttosto che truppe ben addestrate e spesso sono surclassate dal nemico. Nonostante ciò, grazie alla continua campagna pubblicitaria fatta dai media della Cybertronic non mancano mai i militari di leva per queste Unità. L'ossatura principale dell'esercito sono i Cacciatori, soldati che ricevono un intensivo addestramento nei campi militari dislocati sugli asteroidi Troiani.

Le Unità di Retaliator mostrano il grande potenziale della Cybertronic. Sono truppe d'élite ben addestrate e possono contare su un gran numero di specialisti per fronteggiare le diverse situazioni di combattimento. Sono impiegati quando la corporazione non può permettersi di perdere la posizione.

I Machinator sono una truppa specializzata nel Corpo a Corpo. Hanno una fede incrollabile verso la propria corporazione e attaccano in gruppi per eliminare il nemico velocemente. Quando la Cybertronic deve affrontare una grossa minaccia sono impiegati i reparti dei Corazzieri. Questi combattenti potenziati meccamente hanno l'aspetto di grossi androidi. Sono in pesante armatura e non temono alcun nemico. Gli Uomini Specchio hanno delle armature trattate in modo speciale da renderli difficilmente localizzabili sul campo di battaglia. Gli Scorpioni, come i Corazzieri, sono impiegati contro nemici molto potenti. Dato che sono equipaggiati con lanciarazzi, spade potenziate e scudi antiproiettile, sono idonei per molte missioni diverse.

I Singoli nella Cybertronic ricoprono un ruolo importante nel motivare la popolazione, ma sul campo di battaglia mantengono alto il morale delle truppe. Dr. Diana è una dottoressa molto rispettata, che ha guadagnato l'ammirazione della gente, perché non ha paura di mettersi in prima linea per soccorrere i feriti. Vince Diamond è un gigante ed è stato uno dei primi a beneficiare dei nuovi miglioramenti meccanici. E' una faccia familiare nei film prodotti dal Dipartimento per l'educazione ed il Tempo Libero. Il sempre popolare Cyril Dent è usato spesso come simbolo ed esempio da seguire per le giovani reclute. E' un leader carismatico e le truppe si impegnano fino allo stremo pur di ottenere la sua approvazione.

Alcuni combattenti feriti in battaglia ma ancora desiderosi di servire la causa della Corporazione possono guadagnare il diritto di pilotare uno dei Droidi Eradicator. Questi imponenti bipodi sono equipaggiati con il terribile Cannone al Fosforo e una Sega a Catena Gigante. In supporto ai Droidi ci sono i TA-65000, Veicoli da Ricognizione Leggeri. Questi veicoli sono equipaggiati con un cannone automatico.

CRITERIO D'ACQUISTO DELLE TRIBU' DELLA TERRA

- Non si possono mischiare Unità che appartengono a Tribù differenti.
- Non si possono avere più Singoli di quante sono le Squadre e alcuni Singoli si possono comprare solo se c'è la presenza di una particolare Squadra.
- Quando acquistate le Unità Tribali come mercenari dovete attenervi al Criterio d'Acquisto del vostro esercito.

Ci sono molti modi per combattere con le Tribù della Terra. Anche se i loro eserciti sono piccoli paragonati a quelli delle Megacorporazioni, vivono in mondo di continue lotte intestine e spesso sono l'una contro l'altra. Inoltre spesso le Megacorporazioni le utilizzano come mercenari. Quando giocate con una delle 5 Megacorporazioni potete spendere fino ad un terzo dei Punti a vostra disposizione per acquistare le Unità delle Tribù della Terra. La Fratellanza e l'Oscura Legione invece non le utilizzano.

In alcune rare occasioni le Tribù della Terra si sono ribellate alle corporazioni che le avevano assoldate. Si tratta tuttavia di piccoli gruppi che portano avanti una semplice guerriglia in alcune delle zone più remote dei mondi abitati. Questi piccoli eserciti devono far parte della stessa Tribù.

I CRESCENTIANI

Molte delle Tribù sono legate a precisi antichi insegnamenti religiosi. I Crescentiani seguono dogmi che derivano dagli insegnamenti dell'Islam, benché la saggezza e la purezza della fede siano ormai svanite per lasciare il posto alla Jihad.

I Fedeli costituiscono l'ossatura dell'esercito Crescentiano e in battaglia sono leali e temibili. La Fanteria Jihad fornisce un enorme potenza di fuoco e sono rinomati per il loro impeto omicida nelle mischie.

La Guardia del Khan sono scelti già in tenera età per diventare la Guardia pretoriana del Capo della Tribù. Si dice che i Compianti abbiano visto la loro morte e quindi non conoscano la paura, dato che il Fato è per loro già scritto. I Martiri sono guerrieri che hanno perduto tutto. L'unica cosa che rimane loro è la fedeltà alla Tribù per la quale sono pronti a dare anche la vita.

Rispettati da tutti sono i Profeti. Infondono coraggio tra i combattenti e li guidano personalmente in battaglia con le loro mazze a due mani potentiate.

The Lutherans

The Lutherans follow a creed derived from ancient Christian doctrine but like much about life on Earth, it is now a sickly mutation of the benevolent faith that it was. The Disciples form the greater part of the Lutheran army. Armed with two sawn-off shotguns they are deadly in combat and unshakable in the strength of their faith. Also strong in faith are the Fusiliers who always attempt to outflank the enemy and come upon them unawares.

Striding confidently through the Lutheran ranks are the Corsairs. These strong-willed individuals call out orders even as they cut the enemy down with their two-handed power scythes. The Greymourns provide some much-needed firepower, choosing their targets carefully before firing their grenade launchers. Finally the Patriarchs lend their considerable leadership to the troops but they do not lead from afar, they prefer to get close to the enemy before pulling the trigger on their sawn-off shotguns.

The Sons of Rasputin

The Sons of Rasputin are a powerful Tribe and the most technologically advanced of all, though even their achievements languish in the dark ages compared to those of the Megacorporations. Unlike the religions of the other Tribes the Sons of Rasputin are governed by an imperialistic code.

The core of the army are the Soldat Troopers who boast an impressive array of weapons for their troops from a shotgun and pistol to the heavy machine gun. Backing up the standard Soldats are the Shock Soldats armed with the much feared Toxic Gas Siphon, a weapon that spews forth a cloud of corrosive gases. The Northern Sons are known for their tactical maneuvers as they attack the enemy from the most unlikely direction causing mayhem with their two machine pistols.

Adding to the strength of the Sons of Rasputin army are a number of individuals. The Soldat Standard Bearer acts as a natural rallying point for troops on the battlefield. The Jaeger Commando Soldat, a gliding warrior that swoops down on unsuspecting foes. The Soldat Schwerwaffe pinning down the enemy with its heavy machine gun and the Soldat Flammen his arms fastened into the awesome Heavy Flame-Thrower. And the Soldat Vicar barking fierce orders and holding the Sons of Rasputin together as they fight for the territory that is rightfully theirs.

The Templars

The Templars boast many claims of divine ancestry but their great physical strength and brutal savagery remain unquestioned. The main body of the Templar army is made up of Horde Troopers who sweep across the barren plains and rally round the Horde Standard Bearer. They are known for their terrifying charge and are lead by the fanatical Centurs strong warriors who wield their swords with deadly skill. When it comes to versatility the Templars have the Gendarmes. These elite warriors have assault rifles and heavy swords and benefit from the support of a light machine gun specialist.

There are many strange animals roaming across the surface of the ruined Earth and the Gendarme Bestal has brought one of them into the ranks of the Templar army. They possess a strong bond with the animals known as Purger Beasts and always go into battle with a brace of these savage creatures by their side. The Gendarme Hunters are skilled in using terrain for cover and now their hunting skills are being brought to bear on the battlefield as they use their heavy harpoons to hunt the enemies of the Templar Tribe.

The Brotherhood

The Brotherhood is the only force in the solar system that has even the vaguest understanding of the true nature of the Dark Soul and it is this dreadful understanding that drives them to such extreme and uncompromising vigilance. They will do almost anything in their struggle to defeat the evil of the Dark Soul and its terrible Legions.

The main congregation of the Brotherhood army is made up of the Troopers. Anyone joining the militant arm of the Brotherhood will begin service as a Trooper. Those who show promise and dedication will in time become Elite Troopers or Pilgrims. Elite Troopers are holy warriors equipped and trained to deal with every eventuality while the Pilgrims are fearless warriors often used in dire situations and supported by the Pilgrim Executioner with his awesome power shields.

After years of prayer and stern discipline warriors might enter the ranks of the Fury Elite Guard who act as personal guard to leaders of the church or the Sacred Warriors who are almost exclusively used to combat the Dark Legion. Both these units are Close Combat specialists while the Arch Primates are a more versatile combat unit led by elder brethren that have some knowledge of the Art and are able to use Supernatural Powers.

When the Brotherhood needs to make a surgical attack or seek out evil in a clandestine fashion they send the Mortificators. Small units trained in the art of stealth and disposing of Heretics wherever they may try to hide. The Valkyries are fearsome sisters of the order frequently used at the head of a charge, screaming out their prayers of war as they attack the enemy with their power spears.

Others in the Brotherhood act independently. The Assassins for instance are hand-picked from the Mortificators and used when the Brotherhood cannot afford even the slightest margin of error. The Inquisitors seek out Heresy on the battlefield or anywhere else. They are armed with combination chainsaw-assault rifles and carry the Book of Law which they enforce to the letter. The Inquisitor Majoris are much like their lesser brothers but they carry the flamer-assault rifles and wherever they fight the eternal flame of truth burns brightly.

The supernatural powers of the first Cardinal played a major part in uniting humanity when first they faced the Dark Legion. And what Cardinal Durand I started the Mystics strive to maintain. They are enlightened scholars who have gone a long way to mastering the Art. Those Mystics of outstanding purity may become Keepers of the Art to whom the use of Supernatural Powers comes as easily as speech. Many among the Brotherhood combine their knowledge of the art with the martial skills of combat and the Vestals are such. They are fierce opponents in close quarters and often lead the Valkyries into battle.

Travelling throughout the solar system and joining battle wherever they are needed are the Watchmen. They are constantly alert for the presence of evil and always seek to broaden the extent of the Brotherhood's influence. When it comes to having an influence on the battlefield itself few warriors of light can match the Crucifiers. Whether in close combat or not these individuals are blessed with a talent for combat.

The Brotherhood knows only too well that vanity is a sin and they do not encourage self-glorification. However, there are certain individuals that possess an outstanding reputation. The fearless

Blessed Vestal Laura is an inspiration to the female members of the Brotherhood as she combines a deep knowledge of the Art with outstanding combat ability. Inquisitor Nicodemus on the other hand is renowned for his tireless efforts in hunting down even the slightest shadow of Darkness. Few people have a conscience clear enough to feel comfortable in his presence. When the Brotherhood deems a mission to be impossible yet too dangerous to ignore they send for Crenshaw the Mortificator. This master of assassins has knowledge of Supernatural Powers and a deeper understanding of the art of dealing death. And then there is the Cardinal. Cardinal Dominic is rarely seen upon the field of battle but like his distant predecessor he believes it is important to join his congregation in the struggle against the rancid flesh of the Dark Legion, even as he strives to resist the unholy presence of the Dark Soul. And while many of his congregation surpass his martial skills there are none that come close to his understanding of the Art. He is an uncompromising leader steering humanity through the darkest of times and those who disapprove of his ruthlessness would do well to consider the alternative should he fail.

The only vehicle of any note in the Brotherhood army is the Death Angel. This light reconnaissance vehicle is as much an icon and symbol of the wrath of angels as it is a practical vehicle of war.

Choosing a Dark Legion Army

When choosing a Dark Legion army you must first decide on the Dark Apostle you are going to play. The Dark Legion is divided into two main bodies - the Horde and the Cults. Each of the Dark Apostles also have their own specific servants. Once you have decided on a Dark Apostle you may then choose forces from the Horde and the Cults and from the servants of your chosen Apostle. The Horde and the Cults are made up of lesser and greater Squads. A Dark Legion army may consist of any proportion of Horde and Cult forces so long as you follow the buying criteria for each force.

The Horde

The Horde is a vast host of unholy creatures that appear in the armies of all the Apostles. The hateful truth is that much of the Horde consists of human beings that fell in battle or were taken alive even as they fought to resist the Dark Legion. Nothing of their humanity remains and they return to the battlefield to kill their former comrades, kept alive by the unholy power of the Dark Symmetry.

The most pitiful of all are the Undead Legionnaires. Little more than shambling corpses they stumble across the battlefield driven by the memory of pain and the instinct to kill. Leading the Legionnaires are the Necromutants. These too were once human and they are cursed with a the merest spark of spiteful intellect. They look upon humans with hate.

Far from being a corpse but further from being human are the Centurians. Taken alive into the Dark Citadels these strong warriors have been defiled in ways beyond description and perverted beyond redemption. Now they fight for the Dark Legion with every beat of their black hearts.

Supporting the Horde and pounding the human defenders are such weapons as the Unholy Carronade. This cannon has an unsettling organic appearance and while quite inaccurate it shakes the battlefield with its impact.

Striding over the field are a number of demonic creatures. The Golems of Darkness, their bodies formed from stone-hard minerals, a walking shield for the more vulnerable ranks of the Horde who march behind them. The Pretorian Stalkers whose frail body and evil mind is fused into powerful, mechanically-enhanced armor. The mighty Razides whose crimson skin is as hard as steel. These powerfully muscled creatures carry the devastating Nazgaroth HMG a truly fearsome weapon. Towering above all is the Pretorian Behemoth. These massive four-armed giants are bristling with wicked spikes and heavy weapons. They stride across the battlefield causing untold damage and literally flinging the bodies of humans aside. And finally the Mercurian Maculator, a nightmare creature originally summoned from a demented plane by Algeroth himself.

The Pretorian Behemoth cannot Dive for Cover or go Prone. It may throw models of size 3 or less. The Behemoth can spend an Action to throw friendly models in base contact with it. However, in order to throw an enemy model, the Behemoth must first make a successful CC hit. The Behemoth can then throw the model up to Short Range, just like a thrown weapon - P.B. Hit +0, Short Range Hit -2.

The player indicates the target point and if the Behemoth misses then roll for Deviation. If the thrown model hits Terrain then calculate the Damage by referring to the Jumping and Falling table in the main rules. Take the distance that the model was thrown as the height of the fall. If the thrown model hits another model calculate the Damage as you would for two Ramming vehicles (see 'Calculating The Damage For Collisions' in the main rules). The thrown model can only ever hit one target model. If two or more models are under the new target point the thrown model hits the model nearest to the target point. If the thrown model and the target model survive then place the thrown model in base contact with the target model. If the Behemoth wants to throw the model through an Open Access Point, roll to hit as normal. The Access Point must be equal to or larger than the model being thrown.

You may not have more than 1 Pretorian Behemoth in your army.

THE CULTS

Among the human population there are many who find themselves drawn to the Dark Soul, either by virtue of a malicious heart, driven by pain and a sense of despair or seduced by promises of power beyond their wildest dreams. The Brotherhood brands such people as Heretics but those who give their service to the Dark Soul know they have made the right choice. They know that they will be saved at the end of all, when their master comes to claim the living flesh and eternal souls of those who were foolish enough to oppose him. Members of the Cult meet in secret living out the illusion of corporate loyalty even as they seek to further the goals of the Dark Legion.

Those in the first circle of acceptance are known as Acolytes. They have little in the way of military training and must first prove themselves worthy of greater trust by performing some of the most dangerous missions. Those who survive and remain true become Initiates. They may have a penchant for combat or simply a depth of devotion that allows them to be drawn into the second circle of acceptance. To them are revealed some of the deeper secrets of the Cult and they are often branded with some mark of the Dark Legion or the Apostle to whom they have sworn their loyalty.

The Sacristans are high ranking members of the Cult. They are given additional training and blessed with more extreme stigmata. When moving in normal human circles they are often forced to go to extreme measures to keep the mark of their allegiance hidden. Destroyers are warped beyond any attempt to conceal it. They are hidden away by the Cult and train constantly to maintain themselves in prime condition ready to launch themselves into battle whenever their master has need of them.

Certain Cult members have given themselves so completely to the Darkness that they are able to use Supernatural Powers. The Supreme Necromagus are the strongest of these bonding their souls closely to the Dark Symmetry and leading other members of the Cult into battle.

The Technomancers have a close affinity with the secrets of Necrotechnology and are able to heal Necrotech constructs that are damaged or wounded in battle. The Reaper of the Souls knows nothing of healing. Their gift is for dealing death a task that they perform with ceaseless joy.

There are few in the Cult that are willing to speak their real names openly. But there is one who knows no such modesty and his name is Billy. A spiteful youth from the Capitol Corporation, he has found his calling in the Dark Legion and is often seen leading members of the Cult.

Servants of Algeroth

Algeroth is the Apostle of War and every aspect of his nature expresses the violence of this fact. The Nepharites of Algeroth are amongst the most fearsome of all. Devastating in Close Combat they are able to draw upon the Supernatural Powers of their master. The Infernal Corroders were once human but even as their humanity has wasted away so their Acid-Sprayer-Chainsaws eat into the flesh and armor of those who oppose them.

The demonic Ezoghoul is a creature from beyond nightmare and are often seen herding the Undead Legionnaires into battle. The Carnal Harvesters move quickly over the battlefield, raining death with their heavy machine guns and feasting on their victims to revitalize their strength. The Gamorrian Imasculators are heavily muscled beasts armed with huge power hammers and rocket launchers fused into the flesh of their shoulders. The Nasca Razides are bound to the service of Algeroth, they are faster than the rest of their kind and more brutal in Close Combat. Finally there is the titanic Bio-Giant. These monstrous abominations shake the earth as they lay waste to anything that stands before them. The sound of the Bio-Giant's bellowing can stun opponents, rendering them helpless for many terrifying moments.

There are many notable Individuals in the service of Algeroth - Alakhai the Cunning, the first and one of the most powerful Nepharites ever to reveal itself to mankind. He is the most famous of Algeroth's generals. Golgotha, whose vile arachnoid appearance possesses an unsettling femininity. Stahler, a servant of Algeroth and the Dark Soul who manages to conceal his true allegiance from the Bauhaus Corporation where he still holds a high position. He has the power to transform from a normal, elderly man into a demon of unholy strength, encased in Carcass Armor. Valpurgis is the most favored Nepharite of Alakhai. He is gifted in the use of Supernatural Powers. Finally there is Ragathol a master of intrigue who constantly tries to satisfy his ambition to become Algeroth's warlord.

Nepharite of Demnogonis

Servants of Demnogonis

Demnogonis is the Apostle of Disease, the Prince of Pestilence and the abominations that serve his purpose are vile beyond belief. The Blessed Legionnaires are blessed with nothing but decay, their undead flesh is crawling with maggots and the stench of rot precedes them onto the battlefield. The Last Ritesmen are equally nauseating. Stitched together from the rotting remains of corporate soldiers they attack with the blades and spikes which are fused to their hands.

The Kadavers are walking corpses enhanced and made strong by the enhancing diseases of Demnogonis. The Cairath is little more than a pile of rotting flesh animated and armed with mechanical appendages by the power of Necrotechnology.

The Nepharites of Demnogonis use Supernatural Powers in keeping with their master's foul essence. They are host to a multitude of diseases and parasites but their bodies have the power to regenerate themselves after being wounded. The Spawn of Demnogonis are the favorite children of the Prince of Pestilence his eyes and ears on the battlefield. He delights in the corruption they cause. Last but not least are the Curators, depraved surgeons who heal the forces of Demnogonis on the battlefield. Tending the wounded and administering treatments that would devour the flesh of a healthy man but soothe the putrid flesh of this diseased army.

Servants of Ilian

Ilian is the First Mistress of the Dark Soul and was the first of the Dark Apostles to be encountered by humankind. She is a creature of the Dark Symmetry living in perfect disharmony with its unfathomable chaos. The Children of Ilian are a vicious parody of human children. They are small in stature and relatively weak compared to a full-grown human soldier but what they lack in size they make up for in numbers, attacking the enemy in concerted groups, dragging them down and beating them to death with their Skull Maces. Leading the Children of Ilian are the Scions of Ilian. Brutish warriors armed with sub machine guns and a crude chopper which they use to dismember those who fall victim to the Children that they lead.

Servants of Muawijhe

Muawijhe is the Lord of Insanity and wherever his presence is felt madness follows close behind. The Karnophages are humans that were foolish enough to believe they could bargain with insanity. Now they are lost in the twisted halls of the mind with no hope of escape. When they enter battle their naked bodies are animated with manic energy and they tear at the enemy with teeth and claws. Marching with the frantic Karnophages are the Screaming Legionnaires, more pitiful humans whose tortured minds know only confusion, pain and the simple desire to cause harm. The unnerving sound of the Screaming Legionnaires has caused many a hardened veteran to lose his nerve and couch in fear before the forces of Muawijhe.

Adding some heavy firepower to Muawijhe's army are the Immaculate Fury. Dark Legion creatures brought through from a violent realm of madness. The Zenithian Soulslayers are nightmares in the flesh. Large demons with blue-black skin they slash and rend their victims with blade-like claws and rows of sharp teeth. And related to these but many times more powerful are the Zenithian Slaughtermasters larger and stronger than their cousins the Slaughtermasters are able to use Supernatural Powers adding greatly to the fear they instill.

The Nepharites of Muawijhe bring the insanity of their master to the battlefield. The Supernatural Powers they use are all tainted by their Lord's warped mind and in many ways are more terrifying than attacks of the flesh. Also serving his master's quest to corrupt the sound mind of humanity is the Doomsday Proclaimer. This creature floats over the battlefield preying on the insecurity of humankind, questioning their sanity. And in a world so full of suffering and war is anyone completely free of madness?

Semai is the Betrayer and the Speaker of Lies. He delights in turning comrades against each other and sowing the seeds of betrayal. He seeks to entrap followers with blatant untruths and such is his skill that his ranks are swelling. The Heretic Legionnaires were seduced by promises of great glory and only when it was too late for them to turn back did they learn the truth of their deception. Now they are bound to their master's cause with no hope of redemption. The Dark Huntsmen are human soldiers and still have a mind of their own, or at least that is what they believe! The web of lies is wound so tightly around them that they are not even aware of the brainwashing they have endured. All they know is the firm belief that humanity should be eradicated.

The Nepharites of Semai follow their master's lead as they use their Supernatural Powers to deceive the enemy tempting even the most steadfast heart to betray his brother and slaying those who prove strong enough to resist. The Callistonian Sundancer prefers a more direct approach. Making the most of camouflage it maneuvers into position until it can dispatch the enemy with a single shot from its sniper rifle. The Callistonian Intruder also likes to engage the enemy in combat it uses its skill to outflank the enemy forces coming up on them from the least expected direction and bringing death along with it.

Eaonian Justifiers are much hated for their cruel minds. They enjoy listening to the lies their torture victims invent when the truth has failed to set them free. But the tragedy is, the better they are at lying the longer their suffering will continue, for to Semai the master of lies, their pitiful attempts at deception are music to his ears.

The Metropolitan Prophet is an assassin that uses the art of illusion to get close to his victims. He might appear as a comrade and friend before taking your life without a second thought. Know that you can never be safe from the Metropolitan Prophet!

Supernatural Powers

Algeroth

Ultimate Sacrifice

Cost: 12
Range: 12 inches & LOS
Difficulty: 10
Actions: 1
Save: N/A

Effect: A model successfully using this Supernatural Power may target a single friendly model. Place an Ultimate Sacrifice Counter beside the affected model. The next time the model is Activated it receives an MV bonus of +2. It also receives a bonus when fighting in CC, +2 to hit and +2 Dam with any weapons. However, at the end of the target model's Turn it slumps to the ground dead, the last of its life force spent in one final burst of aggression. This cannot be used more than once on the same target.

Dark Enhancement

Cost: 24
Range: 12 inches & LOS
Difficulty: 12
Actions: 2
Save: N/A

Effect: A model using this Supernatural Power needs LOS to the Individual or any member of the target Unit that is in Command Distance of the Leader. When targeting Squad members that are outside Command Distance treat them as Individuals. If successful the entire target Unit receives an RC bonus of +1 to hit and +1 Dam. Place a Dark Enhancement Counter beside the affected Unit. The effect lasts until the end of the Unit's next Turn at which point the Counter is removed. This Supernatural Power cannot be used on a Unit that is already under the influence of Dark Enhancement.

Bloodlust

Cost: 15
Range: 8 inches & LOS
Difficulty: 9
Actions: 1
Save: N/A

Effect: A model using this Supernatural Power needs LOS to the Individual or any member of the target Unit that is in Command Distance of the Leader. When targeting Squad members that are outside Command Distance treat them as Individuals. If successful the entire target Unit receives a CC bonus of +1 to hit and +1 Dam. Place a Bloodlust Counter beside the affected Unit. The effect lasts until the end of the Unit's next Turn at which point the Counter is removed. This Supernatural Power can not be used on a Unit that is already under the influence of Bloodlust.

Warcry

Cost: 34
Range: 6 inches
Difficulty: 8
Actions: 1
Save: N/A

Effect: When a model successfully uses this Supernatural Power all friendly Units within 6 inches get the Enhanced Charge Special Ability during their next Turn. In order for a Squad to benefit from the Warcry at least one member must be within range of the model using the Power and also in Command Distance of the Leader of their Squad. Place a Warcry Counter beside each affected Unit. The effects last until the end of the Units' next Turn, at which point the Counter is removed. Blocked Access Points and walls in buildings stop the Warcry.

Bloodfest

Cost: 64
Range: 12 inches & LOS
Difficulty: 13
Actions: 3
Save: N/A

Effect: A model using this Supernatural Power needs LOS to the Individual or any member of the target Unit that is in Command Distance of the Leader. When targeting Squad members that are outside Command Distance treat them as Individuals. If successful the next time the target Unit is Activated all the models in it, except those in CC, burst into flame and must use all their Actions to Move as far as they can in a direction determined by rolling for Deviation. When all models have Moved they simultaneously explode killing themselves and possibly damaging any other models in the vicinity.

Work out the effect as follows:

- Any affected models killed before all the models in the target Unit have finished Moving do not explode.
- The range of the explosion is 1 inch for every point of Size of the exploding model. The explosion hits any models in range and LOS to the exploding model. The Damage for the explosion is 10 for every 2 of the exploding model's remaining Wounds (rounded up). For example, if the exploding model has 1 Wound the Damage would be 10, if it has 3 Wounds the Damage would be 10(x2).

Demnogonis

Difficulty: 10
Actions: 1
Save: Armor

Effect: When a model successfully uses this Supernatural Power a gout of putrid and corrosive slime shoots forth, burning and rotting its way through Armor and flesh. Center the PLAGUE Template over the target as normal. Any models touched by the template are hit by the Putrescent Spray, Dam 13, and must make an Armor Roll to avoid taking a Wound. If they have more than 1 Wound they must continue to make Armor Rolls until they succeed or die.

Rebirth

Cost: 29
Range: 6 inches & LOS
Difficulty: 14
Actions: 2
Save: Armor

Effect: When a model successfully uses this Supernatural Power it may target a single, living, enemy model. The presence of the Demonic Fiend diminishes as it attacks. The attacks automatically hit and the first attack is Dam 12(x2). The Damage of subsequent attacks is reduced by 2, until the Dam is 0(x2) at which point the Demonic Fiend disappears. For example, the first attack is Dam 12(x2), the second is 10(x2) etc.

If the original target is killed the Demonic Fiend immediately hits the next nearest model in 6 inches and LOS with any of its remaining attacks.
