Foreword

Welcome to yet another edition of "Grim's Amazing D100 Tables", this time we look at the real world of fears and phobias. This list of phobias are intended to aid GM's and players during character creation, and to use as draw backs to add further depth and opportunities for role playing for both. Each phobia comes with a brief rundown and meaning of the disorder, so that it can better suit the character or NPC that is suffering from it. Further reading is recommended for the serious role player, or those who are curious to find out more. It is true, that these are 100% real phobias and not simply plucked out of the air!

If your in the market for more Grinning Skull titles, please check out our publisher page for the latest releases in our extensive range of generic RPG supplements.
