100 Individuals To Run Into In The Post Apocalypse, Set 1

So the players are wandering through the wastes of the post apocalypse and a random encounter roll has determined that they have stumbled upon the presence of another traveler/group of travelers. So just who are these people anyways? With a handful (1d8 perhaps?) of rolls of the percentile dice and a bit of consultation of the chart below, the GM will always be prepared. Notes provided on the chart include the character's first name, gender (M for males, F for females), age (listed as a number), and descriptive "role" of the random character.
