

BERLIN CITYSCAPE

art by Christer Sveen

Technology

Communications and Medical Engineering are the thriving industries of Berlin. Verb Inc, an international communications company is based in one of the tallest buildings in the city. Yet despite being a center for technological advancement, the rougher districts of the city are still home to some old tech.

Environment

Surrounded by low lying woodlands, Berlin has several rivers and lakes in its midst. Cold winters and warm summers accompany generous rainfall year round. Numerous skyscrapers reach upwards along the horizon, rising in the center above the slums on the outskirts.

Society

In a city where factories and refineries are a rare sight, an honest working man is hard to come by. Because the workforce is small and specialized, and the only alternative is welfare, the life of crime is a preferred path for many.
