

ICARUS

FREE CONTENT FRIDAY

SEPTEMBER, 2020

SETTING SUGGESTION

Written By: Doug Levandowski

Graphic Design and Layout: Alex Huilman & Christopher J. De La Rosa

THE FARM

So much has changed, and it hasn't even been a week since the animals of Icarus Farm overthrew their human oppressors. After chasing the humans off of the farm, they quickly installed what they were sure would be the perfect system of government. Now, they will need to prove the perfection of their great experiment to the surrounding farms and nearby villages. They will need to show the world what the animals of Icarus Farm can do.

Note: Prior to playing, players should agree on what form of government the animals decided to install on the farm. It should be one that is ripe for corruption from within and one that seems excellent in the abstract but difficult (if not impossible) to implement in reality.

IMAGERY

Fields of crops flourishing or rotting, dangerous scaffolding around an ever-growing silo, animals working side by side in the fields, angry humans invading the barns, conspiring animals slowly closing a door, rules painted in crude white letters on the side of a barn, farm machinery gleaming bright in the noon sun or rusting in the grey dusk

RESOURCES & TECHNOLOGIES

Tractors, wagons, cultivators, sprinklers, shotguns and rifles, irrigation systems, plows, yokes, scythes, sickles, rakes, hoes, shovels, seeds, balers, horse-drawn planters, trucks, pitchforks, threshers, conveyor belts, pesticides, herbicides, grinders, stills

NAMES

Squealer, Rutter, Snuffler, Barker, Grazer, Neigher, Brayer, Mooer, Wagger, Hisser, Stalker, Clucker, Layer, Scratcher, Pecker, Butter, Leaper, Milker, Galloper, Bleater, Grazer, Frisker, Nibbler, Shearer, Herder, Quacker, Waddler, Flapper, Prancer